Subject: Microsoft Settlement.

Hello,

I wanted to write saying that the current settlement in the case seems to be a reasonable one. While I understand that some changes might be necessary I think it very important that the consumers be the ones who gain from any settlement or settlement modification. In this regard specifically it just does not make sense to entertain other competitor wishes, they really ought to work with their customers to provide better products for them instead of attacking Microsoft,

Sincerely,

Ajay S. Ramachandran,
